What, where and when?

The program runs from October 2024 to February 2025 in Vaasa. At the end of Module 1, which spans from October to December, you will need to submit your learning journal for review. This submission is required to secure your seat in Module 2, running from January to February.

You need to apply to the programme. Since the programme activities are planned take to place on site in Vaasa, you need to be physically present in order to be able to participate.

The aim is to provide all programme participants with various possibilities to develop their Finnish working life skills and to connect with regional companies and other actors. You will get excellent possibilities to network with fellow programme participants, cross degree programmes and higher education institutions.

The success of the programme from your personal perspective will largely depend on your active participation, initiative and contribution.

All programme participants who have completed the programme will at the end of the programme receive a certificate of participation.

The programme consists of three focus areas:

- 1 Competence development – Skills for Finnish working life
- 2 Individual coaching
- 3 Connections to working life

Please note that the programme is not part of your individual study plan and will therefore not automatically give you any credit points. The possibility to earn credit points from programme participation will be entirely a matter between you and your degree programme.

1

Competence development – Skills for Finnish working life

This part of the programme consists of two modules. It equips the participants with must-know facts about Finnish and local working life and its expectations on job applicants and employees. This part kicks off end of October 2024. It will include:

- guest lectures on different topics
- personal journeys
- group discussions
- assigned tasks which will support your personal and professional development

Individual coaching

One-on-one meetings with a coach to give you personalized tips and advice and, discuss your professional interests and field. It includes:

- feedback on your job application materials
- simulation of a job interview

3

Connections to working life

The following activities will vary from participant to participant:

- job shadowing
- company visits
- other types of networking possibilities

We cannot guarantee that you will get any of these possibilities through the programme, since they will be dependent on the needs and availability of the working life actors. What we can guarantee, however, is that by actively participating in the programme, you will be able to find your own connections to working life actors.

Time investment needed:

The estimated required time investment in the lectures and individual coaching is roughly 25 hours. In addition, you will need to reserve time between the sessions for keeping a journal of your learning and for work on your job application materials and other related assigned tasks. At the end of Module 1, you will need to hand in your learning journal for review in order to secure a seat on Module 2.
